Lose The Training Wheels™

You've probably heard us talking about the upcoming Lose The Training Wheels™ (LTTW) bike camp that LLDSS and the local Autism group will be hosting this summer. Like our other major events, this event will require all of our members to help out. Regardless if your child is too young, too old, or not interested - we can use your help!

On Wednesday, May 4th we will be having our first group-wide planning meeting. Our co-chairs, Becky Johnson and MaryKay Sauer have come up with an excellent plan of attack that will make this a very successful event. The meeting will be held at La Fiesta on Stevenson Drive, Wednesday, May 4 from 6-8 pm. So that we have enough tables reserved, please RSVP to me as soon as possible

New Web Site Is Operational

Please take some time to visit our new web site at www.LLDSS.org. This professionally designed web site does an excellent job of providing information about meeting dates/times, picture galleries as well as online registration for our major events. If someone has questions about LLDSS, send them to the web!

2011 Golf Outing Update

The 2011 Golf Outing is just around the corner (May 27). I'm proud to announce that the afternoon session is already full (144 golfers) and we are working on filling the morning. The most golfers we have had at an LLDSS outing is 192 and we hope to exceed that number this year. While most of the planning is complete, we are still looking for help the day of the outing and we are still looking for give-a-way prizes or raffle items.

We will be holding our final golf meeting on Wednesday, May 11 from 6-8 pm at Erin's Pavilion. Pizza will be provided by LLDSS and drinks are on your own. At this meeting we hope to complete our volunteer schedule as well as put a last minute plan together to get some more prizes.

Please come out and enjoy some pizza on LLDSS and give Ryan Johnson and Jared Owen, our golf co-chairs, your full support.

So that we have the proper amount of pizza, please RSVP to Jason.Schnepf@gmail.com.
